VOLUME LVII — UKIAH CITY, MENDOCINO CO., CAL., DEC. 26, 1924 — NUMBER 13

BOOTLEGGER PINCHED ON THREE CHARGES

Louis Pera, of Eureka, was captured by Deputy Sheriff Joe Weselsky on Christmas day, while transporting 70 gallons of jackass and some wine to Eureka. Weselsky took after him as he passed through town and overtook him about half way to Calpella. Pera would not stop but "stepped on 'er" and tried to crowd Weselsky off the road. He maintained a speed of over fifty miles from there to the Forsythe creek bridge, when he turned off up the Jay Lee Smith road and Joe cornered him. He arrested him on three counts—transporting liquor, carrying a concealed weapon without a license (Pera had a revolver in his pocket) and exceeding the speed limit.

He was driving a fine Nash sport touring, which will probably become the property of the county.

UKIAH DEFEATED

The boys of the basketball team of the local high school defeated the strong Ukiah team of the high school at a fast game played in Ukiah Friday night.

At the end of the first half it looked as if the Lakeport boys were doomed for defeat, the score at that time being 11 to 6 in Ukiah's favor.

However, the local boys put up an extra effort, and when the whistle blew at the end of the game the score stood 15 to 14, this time in favor of the Lakeport bunch.

Quite a number of students and others from here motored over to take in the game.—Lakeport Bee.

PRESTON DISPOSES OF SCHIAFFINO MATTER

Problem Facing Lake County Authorities Solved By Mendocino County Judge With Application of Probation

The application of a little common sense to a problem that has been perplexing the Lake county authorities for several weeks past, has disposed of all difficulties and incidentally proved Judge Preston, of the Mendocino county superior court a jurist of deep thought and resource.

The matter was the disposal of the Schiaffino case. Judge Preston disposed of it Tuesday by sentencing Schiaffino to forty years in the Lake county jail and then admitting him to probation for the term of the sentence.

Concerning the case, a dispatch from Lakeport Tuesday evening says:

Charles Schiaffino, Lake county's 40-year "explosive burglar," is again a free man. Though not fully beyond the jurisdiction of the law, he is at least free of prison bars and prison discipline.

After "winning" a court verdict which resulted in his losing all credit for the years he had served in state's prison, and being returned to this county to begin over again the serving of his sentence, Schiaffino began today what is believed to be the longest probationary period ever recorded.

Crime Not Defined

Schiaffino was put on probation for 40 years when Superior Judge Hugh L. Preston of Ukiah, sitting for Judge M. S. Sayre, who is ill, gave him a suspended sentence of

RANCH HOME BURNS

The dwelling on the Eight Mile valley ranch was burned with all its contents last Saturday while the owner, C. A. Rowley, was in Ukiah on business. Mrs. Rowley and the children did what they could to put the fire out, but were unable to accomplish their purpose, as the blaze had got too far along when they discovered it. They were unable to save much from the house, which burned so quickly as to prevent access to it. Mr. Rowley and Elmer Purdy were in town Wednesday for a load of lumber with which to build a temporary shelter for the family.

L. P. ANKER GETS GARBAGE CONTRACT

The contract for collecting the garbage in accordance with the city ordinance recently passed by the city trustees has been awarded to L. P. Anker. It will be a few weeks before the wagon can be built and other arrangements completed to take care of the garbage, but the trustees hope to have the system working within a few weeks at most, after which the cooperation of the householders is solicited to the end that Ukiah may be a clean city.

PUMP UNIT TESTED

The new pump unit recently installed at the city wells under the direction of Fred Handy, executive of the public service department, has been tested and is found to deliver a quantity of water substantially in excess of the requirements.

The next link in the system to be replaced will be the main from the pumping plant to the Orr Creek bridge on State street. Work is to be started in a few weeks.

TO ENFORCE PARKING RULES

The new signs carrying directions for the traffic in Ukiah according to the new ordinance will be here in a few weeks and will be placed in position. After that the provisions of the ordinance will be enforced. Parking will be allowed only one hour on State street and parking on the streets between State and School will be parallel to the sidewalks. Various other regulations will be provided for.

GRAPE GROWERS FAVOR PRESENT SUGAR CONTENT

The grape growers of Mendocino county held an important and enthusiastic meeting Saturday, December 20 at the Ukiah city hall.

The meeting was called at the request of the California Farm Bureau Federation by C. L. Crawford in the interests of the proposed revision of the standardization of California grapes.

The proposed revision of the present standard for sugar content of grapes shipped from California calls for the raising of the required percentage of sugar from 18 to 22 per cent.

The entire meeting unanimously favored the proper enforcement of the present standard and selected Henry York, C. L. Crawford and O. Tadlock as delegates to attend the state meeting of grape growers to be held at Sacramento, January 7. The delegates were instructed to make every effort to see that the present standardization law is held intact.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas it is universally conceded that quality is the determining factor with the consumer in stabilizing and marketing profitably, any agriculture product and

"Whereas, it is the general opinion of the growers of the state that there is a necessity for raising the standards and quality of the grapes shipped out of the state, and

"Whereas the grape growers of Mendocino county feel that the present standards properly enforced will be satisfactory to the purchasers of the grapes from the coast counties.

"Therefore, be it resolved that it is the sense of this meeting that we are not in favor of any legislation that would raise the percentage of sugar content of grapes from this district."

SANG CHRISTMAS CAROLS

A party composed of Mrs. Peggy Lynch, Will Van Dyke, Rev. L. C. Beasley, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Frank Toles and daughter, Grace, Mrs. Lee Taylor and Mrs. Storer and two daughters sang Christmas carols about the city at an early hour yesterday morning.

The singing was much enjoyed by the less enterprising folks who lay and listened while snuggling warmly in bed.

BREAKS INTO JAIL FOR SIX MONTHS TERM

A few hours after being released from the county jail following service of a light sentence for a petty theft, J. McCarty was back in the bastile with a six months' sentence. After being let out he stole a package of some meat and some groceries from the Dean car and later lifted two suit cases from two cars parked on State street. He was arrested by Sheriff Byrnes immediately and owned up to the crime. He also had taken a fur coat and two robes from a car near the First National Bank and he took the sheriff to the place where he had cached his plunder, all of which was returned to the various owners with the exception of the meat, which he had already given away to Frank Ward, one of his erstwhile fellow prisoners. It was the gift of the meat which aroused the suspicions of the officers, for when the theft of the meat had been reported, they immediately connected it up with McCarty's gift to Ward.

COMPTCHE BONDS CARRY

COMPTCHE, Dec. 22.—The election for school bonds took place last Saturday and carried almost unanimously. There were twenty-three votes cast, twenty-one in favor of bonds and two against. The district is to be bonded for $4,000 to raise funds for building a new school house and to fix the school grounds. The citizens are to be commended for their progressiveness, but Comptche is always ready to do its best in any cause for the welfare of the community.

CATTLEMEN SIGN UP FOR CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING

"Eighty per cent of the cattle in the state of California have been signed up under the co-operative selling, or marketing plan of the California Cattlemens' Association."

This was the announcement of T. B. "Doc" Ricks of Eden valley, who returned Wednesday from San Francisco where he attended the convention of the association held at the Palace Hotel last Friday and Saturday.

He declares that this percentage assures the organization that their marketing plan, which will go into effect this spring, will be a success from every angle and that it will be of great benefit to the cattle raisers.

"The cattlemen who are not already signed up in connection with the co-operative selling plan, are urged to sign up as early as possible in order that they may be benefitted by it," he continued.

Anyone desiring further information can get in touch with either Ricks or D. T. Johnson of Covelo, who also attended the convention.

WOMAN ARRESTED

Miss Clark, a daughter of George Clark, of Longvale, was arrested by Sheriff Byrnes and Deputies Weger and Weselsky yesterday after a search of her house revealed a quantity of booze hidden in various places.

Her father's house, a short distance further up the highway was in process of being searched by the officers as the Dispatch went to press today.

EVERETT HOUGH KILLS BOY AT IONE SCHOOL

Lad Who Shot Man at Branscomb in This County Slays Companion in Fight at Reform School

Everett Hough, who shot Wm. Ackley, a resident of Branscomb in this county after Ackley had taken in and befriended him, and who was subsequently sent to the reform school at Ione, added another chapter to his rather lurid career last Monday, when, during a fight with another lad named Leland Price in the reform school he inflicted injuries from which Price died Tuesday morning.

Hough, after shooting Ackley, made his escape from the county farm here where he was being held for trial and went to San Francisco. There he entered on a series of burglaries and was finally captured when he leveled a six shooter at a roomer in the hotel where he was staying and, his bluff failing to work, was run down and caught.

He was brought back here, and was sent to reform school by Judge Preston several months ago. Concerning his killing of Price, a message from Sacramento says:

Leland Price, 16-year-old inmate of Ione, was to have been paroled for good conduct on Christmas day.

But it just happened that he had a fight with another boy—just a regular boy's fight—and the result was that he died early this morning.

The Price boy, who was the son of Mrs. L. P. Phillips of Dunsmuir, had an altercation with Everett Hough, 15, in the school yard yesterday. They exchanged blows and young Price was knocked down, striking his head on the pavement. He died of a fractured skull in the hospital of the institution. The Hough boy was deprived of privileges, pending an investigation by A. H. Close, the superintendent.

TO BUILD GARAGE

M. Cambot has in preparation plans and specifications for a new concrete garage to replace the old frame building on his lot on North State street. The plans are being drawn by Henry Mull. The building will be 70x90 feet, we understand, and will have an attractive front. It will be built in a substantial manner and with a wall and foundations capable of sustaining two more stories should Mr. Cambot care to add them in the future.

THIEVES BUSY

Petty thieves last Sunday night removed the radiator caps from a number of cars, among them being those of Ed Sanford, Jas. Eddie of Potter valley, Dr. J. H. Hansen, and several others. The same night Paul Lamperti lost his overcoat, a pair of gloves, a flashlight and other articles, the thieves taking them out of the car.

The depredations were committed while the cars were standing in front of the St. John's church.

THE WEATHER

The total rainfall for the season to date has now reached 18.09 inches, according to I. A. Carbine, official observer here. There was a precipitation of 4.21 inches during the storm the latter part of last week and the first of this.

The river was almost up to the approaches to the asylum bridge last Sunday, the highest it has been for a number of years.

LETS CONTRACT

A. Sanchez let a contract this week for the remodeling of his present home and the building of two cottages on the same lot, which is located on Walnut avenue. The contract price was a little over $7200. The present residence will be moved to the rear of the lot, facing on Dora street, and the two new cottages will face on Walnut.

CLASS PAPER IS ISSUED BY HIGH SCHOOL AGGIES

The December number of the Ukiah Aggies Pow-wow, the class paper of the agricultural class of the Ukiah high school, was issued the latter part of last week. Ted Richey appears as editor and among the contributors are the following: George Leno, "Junior Farm Bureau;" Robert Alcott, "Pea Growing in this Community;" David Squires, "Third Year Projects;" Pete Carmichael, "Farm Mechanics;" Lenard Weselsky, "Athletics;" Cecil Burk, "Radio Club;" Ted Richey, "Trip to Berkeley," "Trip to State Fair;" Clyde Richey, "Flower Gardening Contest;" Darrel Rawles, "Trip to L. E. Crawford's Place;" Paul Hair, "School Ground Beautification;" Leslie Tindall, "First Year Projects;" Marian Swim, "Postgrad in Apriculture;" Walter Freeman, "Club Convention at Davis."

The paper was mimeographed by the Commercial class of the high school.

FREIGHT WRECK

A freight wreck between Hopland and Cummiskey last Wednesday evening tied up traffic on the railroad and held the northbound Eureka express that night until 11 o'clock Christmas morning. The southbound Eureka train also was held at Hopland. Traffic was going through again on schedule Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cottrell of Sacramento, motored over to spend the holidays with relatives here.

BOATWRIGHTS TAKEN TO STATES PRISON

William Boatwright was taken to Folsom prison by Deputy Sheriff Al McCabe the latter part of last week following the pronouncing of sentence on him by Judge Preston and the refusal to grant a new trial. Irene Kiper, better known as Irene Boatwright, who was posing as his wife, was sentenced by Judge Preston to San Quentin. She fainted when sentence was pronounced upon her and was carried to the office of District Attorney Hurley, where she was revived, whereupon she did a little cussing and wanted to kill Dist. Atty. Hurley. She was taken to San Quentin by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zimmerman.

The Kipers were taken to Humboldt county, where they will answer in the superior court to a charge of burglary.

HORSE KILLED BY BULL

Will Runk of Bachelor valley, narrowly escaped being gored by an enraged bull last week during the excitement of a peculiar accident. Runk was riding a saddle horse belonging to Sam Gibson of the valley and was assisting in driving a number of bulls to Ukiah for delivery to George Burgess. A truck being driven by Martin of Scotts valley struck one of the herd while passing. The animal while arising came up under the horse and rider who were crowded close between a fence and the truck. The horse was gored so badly by the bull that it died within a short time from loss of blood. The rider, Will Runk, as stated, was not injured.—Lakeport Bee.

BUY REAL ESTATE BUSINESS

The real estate business and lease of Clary & Moffitt was bought the first of the week by L. L. Hopkins and M. B. Gibson. Mr. Hopkins has been engaged in the business for several years and has the requisite experience. Mr. Gibson is thoroughly acquainted with all parts of the county and his knowledge of realty values, coupled with Mr. Hopkins's experience as a dealer makes the combination an excellent one.

FISHER DAY DIES

CALIFORNIA PIONEER CROSSES LAST DIVIDE

Bennett Pemberton, Resident of California for More Than Seventy-one Years Taken in Death

Bennett Pemberton died at the residence of his daughter, Etta, (Mrs. Glines) near Los Angeles, December 18, 1924. Had he lived one month longer he would have been 92 years of age. He was born in Kentucky; at the age of 14 years he went to Missouri with his parents. He first came by "covered wagon" to California more than 71 years ago; after following mining near Lancha Plana for some years, he went into stock raising near Santa Rosa. In 1860, he returned to Missouri via the Isthmus of Panama; and was married to Thurza Emmons the same year. During the war between the states he "wore the gray," and rode with General Marmaduke and Colonel Jo. Shelby. At the close of the war he again drove an ox team "across the plains" to California. He lived near Petaluma until 1872, and then went to Potter valley, Mendocino county. He resided there and at other localities within the same county until about six years ago. For the last six years his home has been with a widowed daughter in Los Angeles county. Up to six days prior to his death he enjoyed good health; and retained his mental vigor to the end. After a short illness involving but little suffering, he went peacefully to sleep like a tired child, trusting to wake in the presence of the Christ in whom he had devoutly believed throughout his long life.

He leaves seven living children, twelve grand children, and eight great grand children.

He leaves also a second wife, who is a daughter of James Hughes, Sr., a pioneer of the Potter valley, and whose first husband was Stoddard Neil, of the same valley.

IF I WERE A BOY AGAIN

By Gov. Friend W. Richardson

If I were a boy again I would want to be poor so as to have to struggle and work for success. I would prefer to attend a school where there were none of the easy methods so popular today, but where education methods were difficult and to have a teacher who would administer the rod when necessary. I would want to be raised in the country where people have time to think. I would have an ambition to remain in the country and be a farmer, not too poor and not too rich. Poor enough to have to do some manual labor and rich enough to have a few good books and some time to devote to them. The manual labor would insure good digestion, the country life good health, and the books a contented mind. I would want congenial neighbors. I would want to go to the cities occasionally so as to observe and marvel that some people would consider the noise, the bustle, the froth, the mad rush, the pursuit of the frivolous as a life worth living. I would try to help those who needed help within my circle of observation. I would endeavor to be contented and useful to my neighbors, and try not to be too contemptuous of the poor moths who flutter about the bright lights of the big cities.—Sacramento Bee.

WILLITS NEWS OF PAST WEEK

(Willits News)

Ernest James Stockdale, a fence rider on the Ridgewood ranch, was sentenced to six months in the county jail Thursday morning by Judge E. M. Whitney for committing a misdemeanor in Willits on the evening of October 25, when, Officer Wilkinson attempted to arrest him, and was confronted with a pistol in the hands of the inebriated gentleman and warned that he would be killed if he persisted in trying to detain him.

After Judge Whitney had passed sentence yesterday morning he placed Stoikdale on probation for one year and told him that if he were found in a drunken condition and acting contrary to the law at any time until the expiration of the probation term, he would have to serve his six months in the county jail.

Stocndale at the time of his sentence made affidavit that he had purchased liquor from Paul Cureton. The latter was arrested by Sheriff R. R. Byrnes and later released on a $300 bond by Judge Whitney.

Death of Mrs. Frost

Mrs. Jane Frost passed over the Great Divide Monday, December 15. She was born on the Buckhorn ranch near the Whitcomb school house on December 15, 1867, and was preparing to celebrate her fifty-seventh birthday when she was suddenly called from those who were near and dear to her. A cerebral hemorrhage was declared to be the cause of her death.

She is survived by her two sons, Vertie and Orville Frost, and a daughter, Mrs. Ollie Bush, as well as two sisters, Mrs. Roxana Blosser and Mrs. Emily Perry, Morgan Whitcomb, her brother, and David Frost, her husband.

Mrs. William Howard of Ukiah and Mrs. Harriet Blosser of Santa Rosa, aunts of the late Mrs. Frost, upon receiving the sad news of her death, immediately came to Willits and remained here until after the funeral. George and John Whitcomb of Fort Bragg, cousins, too, were here. Mrs. Frost also was a cousin of Mrs. Cora Workover.

The pall bearers were all prominent business men of Willits. They were J. J. Keller, George Heyward, Charles Tuck, Z. J. Elliott, J. M. Rupe and W. M. Muir.

Cook Held Up

Gunn Wong, cook at the Hotel Willits, was held up by two bandits Wednesday morning and robbed of $5.50 at the kitchen door of the hotel.

The holdup occurred between 5:00 and 5:30 o'clock, just as Gunn was going to prepare breakfast for the guests.

He was unable to give a clear description of the criminals to City Marshal Lou Foster, who was called to the scene by Mrs. G. Vancleemput as soon as it was reported to her, which was between 5:30 and 5:40.

According to his story, Gunn was about to turn into the kitchen doorway at the rear of the hotel, when the men stopped out of the darkness of the stairway beside the door. One of them grabbed and turned him around, pinning his arms behind him, while the other pressed, he declares, two guns into the small of his back. Unable to defend himself, he was forced to allow his first captor to go through his pockets.

As soon as they had completed their search, he was pushed toward the doorway, while the robbers disappeared into the darkness.

Burglars Busy

Bandits broke into the Redwood Highway bakery Sunday night and rifled the cash register. C. L. Rotler, proprietor of the bakery stated they made off with six dollars, although it is possible they secured five more from a rear compartment in the cash drawer.

The robbery occurred between the hours of nine and 12 o'clock, it was said.

Confer Degrees

The second and third Masonic degrees were conferred upon three candidates by the Willits degree team Wednesday evening. Herbert Rottler took the third degree, while Ewald Olson and Al St. Louis were inducted into the second degree.

Following the degree work, refreshments were served.

Several visitors were present from the Ukiah lodge. An invitation was extended to the members of the Willits lodge to take part in the dedication ceremonies of the new Masonic temple at Ukiah on January 16th.

Many Willits Masons are planning to attend, so it is expected that the local lodge will have an excellent representation at the county seat.

Chas. Hardisty drove over to Willits Saturday.

Give Up Hope Of Finding Remains

Searchers have given up hope of finding Andy Zimmerman, aged 84 years, who wandered away from his home several weeks ago. It was more than a week before he was missed, as the relatives he was living with believed that he had gone to visit in Lake county. It is thought that he got into the mountains and lost his way. Searching parties were unable to find the slightest trace of Mr. Zimmerman, and now on account of winter, it is declared impossible to continue the search.

Friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Snider are congratulating them on their recent marriage. Mrs. Snider was formerly Miss Ada Robinson, one of the popular Willits high school students. Mr. Snider is well known here.

Fire partially destroyed the contents of the home of W. J. Barnes of Dos Rios last week. The damage was fully covered by insurance.

SCHIAFFINO CASE

that duration under strict probationary rules.

The "blast burglar" had been remanded to the superior court here for resentence when the appellate court ruled that he had been illegally confined in San Quentin, because Section 464 of the Penal Code, dealing with burglary with explosives, failed to specify where the sentence must be served and did not define the crime as a felony.

Because Lake county has no accommodations in the county jail for permanent guests, and because Superior Judge Sayre, was ill, Superior Judge Preston came over from Mendocino county today to resentence Schiaffino. Under the terms of the sentence Schiaffino—

Terms of Probation

Must report to the Lake county probation officer once a month for 40 years.

Must not leave the state without permission of the probation officer.

And must not violate any state law unless he wishes to be returned to Lakeport to serve out his full term.

Judge Preston was understood to say that he did not believe it was the intent of the law to confine any man to 40 years imprisonment for a crime of this nature, and, as Schiaffino's accomplice in the crime was now at liberty, he did not believe Schiaffino should serve any more than the six years he has already put in San Quentin. Tony Franchino was convicted with Schiaffino and sentenced to ten years, but was liberated for good behavior last month.

Was White Elephant

Until Judge Preston gave his sentence today, Lake county had a "white elephant" on its hands in the person of Schiaffino. Without proper facilities for accomodating a permanent guest in the county jail, it appeared that only two courses remained open to the authorities. One was to get a new jail, the other to get rid of Schiaffino. Officials had been worried deeply by the problem for the past three weeks, since the appellate court decision.

The ruling in the high court and the problem subsequently faced by Lake county have attracted widespread interest since San Quentin literally threw Schiaffino out of state's prison into a county jail. Lake county's solution of the problem was considered by authorities here as virtually the only course open.

Convicted in 1918

Schiaffino and Franchino were convicted in September, 1918, for blowing the safe of Herrick and Brooks store at Middletown. The latter was sentenced to 10 years, but Schiaffino got the full term of the then new "burglary with explosives" section of the penal code. H. B. Churchill, now assistant district attorney of Sonoma county, but then Lake county's prosecutor, handled the state's case in the trial.

Schiaffino served six years of his sentence in San Quentin and then his attorney petitioned the appellate court at San Francisco for a writ of habeas corpus. The ruling of the court held the "burglary with explosives" section faulty for the reason given above. This finding made the crime a misdemeanor, so Schiaffino was returned to Lake county to be sentenced.

Schiaffino, who is 38 years old, is going to San Francisco to live with a sister, he told District Attorney Benjamin C. Jones.

FISH, GAME COMMISSION PLANS FOR MORE TROUT FRY

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 23.—Plans of the state fish and game commission for increasing the number of its egg collection stations and thereby adding several million trout fry to the output of the commission's hatcheries each season, were divulged today by W. H. Shelbey, head of the department of fish culture.

The present program of the commission provides for the opening of three new egg-collection stations next spring. Construction of racks and traps for one of the new stations, which is to be located on Shackleford creek, a tributary of the Scott river in Siskiyou county, is already under way. Both trout and salmon eggs will be taken at this station.

Two Others Planned

Another station is to be established on Beaver creek, a tributary of the Klamath river, in Siskiyou county. This station will be for the collection of trout eggs.

The commission also plans to establish new stations on Rush and Reverse creeks in Mono county for increasing the output of black-spotted trout fry. These stations will serve as auxiliaries to the Mt. Whitney hatchery of the commission.

MACK'S LOG BOOK

Gainsville, Florida,
December 15, 1924

Dispatch-Democrat:

Well, here we are once more, still on the road and heading north. Going north from Miami through Palm Beach, which is a beautiful city of fine homes and hotels, we came to the city of St. Augustine, Fla., which is I think the oldest city in the U. S. Here at this place we visited Fort Marion(formerly Fort San Marco). This is the oldest Fort on the westtern continent. The building of it was begun in 1565 and it took 90 years to build it. The Spaniards compelled slaves to do the work. The thickest part of the fort walls are forty feet and the top at the narrowest place is six feet. The fort covers five acres of ground. It is built of coquina, which looks like gray stone and is composed of millions of tiny shells. It is the best preserved specimen of military architecture of its time. The walls and watch towers are in a perfect state of preservation, but the old cannons are dismounted and the moat is dry. It stands close to the water, and right inside the walls are wells that could be opened from the outside and let the water come into the moat, making a body of water about 50 feet wide and perhaps 15 feet deep all around the fort between the inner and outer walls. I noticed the old wooden pulleys that the chains ran through to raise the drawbridge were still in the walls, although the chains were rusted and fallen out. In all respects it looks like a castle built after the plan of those of the middle ages of Europe. There are inner and outer barriers called the barbican, the drawbridge, portcullis, and a lot of other appliances on such fortifications at that time. In 1836, one of the U. S. engineers in removing one of the cannons on top of the fort, caved a hole through the roof, exposing a deep, dismal dungeon. He descended into the hole, where he found the skeleton of a man and woman in iron cages bolted to the wall. In our visit to the fort we were taken into this dungeon, which is called the secret dungeon, as the Spaniards before vacating the fort walled up this place which was entered through a thick wall with doors only 30 inches high and 36 inches wide. When these skeletons were found they were encased in iron torture cages which could be tightened so as to cause terrible agony. They also had steel gags in their mouths which locked back of their heads and had a piece of steel in front that went between their teeth and prevented them from closing their mouth. These cages and gags I examined in the room where they keep their relics. No one knows who the skeletons were in life or why they were walled up alive. This dungeon is the darkest hole I was ever in. They claim that four people would exhaust all the air in the room in four hours and they have to keep an electric fan running to furnish air for visitors. They turned out the lights while we were in the dungeon and I thought I would die before the guide finished his little lecture. This dungeon, by the way, is 20 feet long by 13 feet wide and 7 feet high, with arch ceiling. We also saw the other dungeons where prisoners were confined for petty offenses. They were all dark and gloomy and the prisoners were compelled to sleep on the stone floor without any covering of any kind. The old chapel was visited next, but the walls are bare. Only the niches where the Holy water and patron saints had occupied were there to show for what purpose the place had been used. Adjoining the chapel were the dungeons where the prisoners condemned to death were placed to await their execution, and between them and the chapel is a barred door where the condemned men were led that they could hear mass said before they were led out to be shot. The wall outside is riddled with bullet holes, showing that many people were executed at this spot. Between the inner and outer walls I saw a large stone oven, and I tried to guess what it was used for but could not make out on account of its shape, but discovered later that it was for heating cannon balls to fire at wooden vessels.

Many other interesting things were to be seen in St. Augustine. The old slave market still stands in the plaza. It is a large open building, just a long roof supported by 12 large square pillars. This is where the sale of slaves took place during the days of slavery. Here, also, is the oldest Roman Catholic church in the U. S., built in 1793-97. It seats from 1500 to 2000 people. The altars are all built of Carrara marble and it is still a beautiful place to worship. Here we saw the narrowest street in the U. S.. It was used in the Spanish period as a public highway and is only six feet one inch in width. One could spend a week or two to good advantage at this place, for there are many things to see if one takes time to drive around. We are now at Gainsville, Fla., having made a complete circle of the state. The Florida state university and museum is located here and we intend to spend a day going through it and will tell you about it in my next letter. The weather here is very nice. The temperature this morning at 8 a. m. was 62 degrees and still we have had no rain on our trip, which seems very remarkable, as almost everyone we meet tells us what storms they have been through. As this will probably be the last letter before Christmas to be published and as I cannot write to all my friends in Ukiah, which includes all the population I hope, I will take this means of wishing them all a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year.

J. M. McKENZIE.

MENDOCINO NOTES

(Mendocino Beacon)

Auto Accidents

Sunday afternoon Ed. Roth and Arthur Hansen of Fort Bragg were descending the hill into town driving a "Hup" roadster with Roth at the wheel. Louie Anderson, in a Jewett, was just ahead of them and as they neared the foot of the hill Roth prepared to pass him and pulled his car to the left. Reaching the foot of the hill, Anderson turned into the Little Lake road. The cars were so close that in order to avoid a collision Roth jammed on his brakes and swung his car sharply to the right. The car was traveling at a good rate of speed and when the brakes went on it went off the side of the road to the right and turned over, pinning both men under it but not injuring them seriously. Help was at hand and raised the car so that they could extricate themselves. It was most fortunate that neither one was hurt.

Last Saturday morning or early Sunday morning Frank Fortado, after attending a dance at Crown hall here, was en route home to Caspar, driving a Ford coupe. About half way between the danger turn and Russian Gulch another car approached and passed him coming from the north. He was blinded by the lights of the car and drove off the road at the fill at the county water tank, making a center shot at the tank. He ruined the radiator on the car but otherwise no material damage was done, and he escaped without injury.

About 2 o'clock Monday morning a hurry call was sent in to the S. & E. garage for assistance and the wrecking crew drove out about eight miles on the Ukiah road and rescued a Scripps-Booth car from the bottom of a canyon. Mr. Colbert, the driver, who is a fireman at the Ukiah State Hospital, in driving home from Mendocino mistook the road in the darkness and fog and took the road leading down into Frank Vieira's place. Discovering his mistake he turned his car around and in backing ran over the edge of the road and the car went down into the canyon a couple of hundred feet. The car was hauled up into the road with a wire cable. It was found not badly damaged after its plunge down the hill. The driver escaped injury.

Fire Averted

What might have been a serious fire was narrowly averted last week by a woman's intuition and quick action. When Joe Lopps went to his midday meal that day he left a three-burner oil stove lighted in the small building at the rear of his barber shop. He was seated at the table in the dining room of his home one door west of the shop when his wife happened to glance out of the window and observed smoke issuing from the rear of the barber shop. She called to her husband and then went out to the street and called to Fire Chief Whited, who was near at hand. Dr. Whited hurried to the engine house across the street, where with others he coupled on the hose to the fire hydrant connecting with the high school hill tank. He also turned in a fire alarm. Water was being played on the blaze in a very few minutes. Mr. Lopps had hurried from the table drect to the shed and rolled out a 25-gallon barrel of coal oil. The water soon put out the blaze before any great amount of damage had been done.

Buys Store

A real estate deal of considerable importance was closed last Saturday when A. L. Patton purchased from John Granskog and wife their building on Main street one door east of Lopps' barber shop. The consideration was $1000.

The building, formerly the property of Dr. Peirsol, was occupied as a drug store on the ground floor and later a general merchandise business was conducted there by Fred Weber.

Mr. Patton has already begun to remodel the interior of the ground floor and will fit it up as a cigar stand and pool hall.

Stickney Home Completed

The new home of Supt. Fred Stickney of the Caspar Lumber Company at Caspar is now practically completed and contains all the conveniences of a modern city home. There are nine electric heating stoves in the walls, an electric range, in which wood can also be used, an electric water heater, and an electric refrigerator. Altogether there are about 125 electric inlets in the building, the lead into it being under ground, doing away with overhead wires. All wires are run in a metal conduit. It is one of the most modern as well as most convenient homes on the coast.

Snow on Coast

Monday night and Tuesday morning considerable snow fell all over the county. King's peak in southern Humboldt was snowcapped and its white-capped dome plainly visible from high school hill. There was a more pronounced fall of snow in Comptche and adjacent country, several inches remaining on the ground for some hours on the upper levels. At East Mendocino an inch and one-half was reported. Practically all the higher stretch of country back a mile or two from the coast was covered for several hours with a white mantle.

Renovating School

The Franciscan Fathers are making a number of improvements on their property and this week they are at work on one of the buildings, converting it into a room suitable for educational purposes. The upper story will be used for class rooms while the lower hall will be used for meeting and entertainment purposes.

The building is being re-floored and new windows put in throughout.

Fined on Liquor Charge

Hugo Dahl was arrested in the Albion woods camp Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Joe Jackson for having liquor in his possession. He was brought before Judge Murray at Mendocino on Thursday afternoon and fined $350.

The local grammar school closed last Friday for a week's vacation. The high school closed for a two weeks' vacation.

The youngsters acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. Of course there was the usual Xmas tree, candy and nuts, and oranges and apples as well.

The Sunday school program was held at the clubhouse Sunday afternoon and despite the very inclement weather the clubhouse was well filled. Many of the youngsters recited and sang while the chorus of grown ups sang several numbers. The program was an excellent one and was enjoyed by all present. Candy, nuts and oranges were also much in evidence.

"North of 36" a True Screenplay of Pioneer Days

Jack Holt, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, and Noah Beery Featured

"North of 36," by Emerson Hough, depicting all the thrills and hardships of pioneer days on the Texas cattle ranges, has been filmed for Paramount by Irvin Willat, who made the natural-color picture, "Wanderer of the Wasteland" and other classics.

When a motion picture company

assembles four of its biggest box office stars for one production it can mean only one thing—that that company has faith in the story and believes it has public appeal.

Just such a thing has been done for the Paramount production, "North of 36," produced by Irvin Willat, which will be the feature at the State theatre next Thursday and Friday.

Jack Holt as Dan McMasters plays a role that will hold one enthralled, the role of a stern and fearless man—yet beneath the surface possessing the gentle qualities that go to make him beloved by all.

Ernest Torrence, scout of "The Covered Wagon," has fully as interesting a part in this picture. As Jim Nabours, ranch foreman, he is given an opportunity for a characterization entirely different and far superior to anything he has done in his entire career.

Lois Wilson, as the orphaned ranch owner, Taisie Lockhart, offers a characterization that is a combination of sincerity, lovliness, determination and grit.

Noah Beery, playing Sim Rudabaugh, the villianous state treasurer, is a type exact in every detail.

All the above mentiined appear in featured roles in the production. A few of the big names playing in support include David Dunbar, Stephen Carr, Guy Oliver, Wm. Carroll, Clarence Geldart, George Irving and Ella Miller.

Through this great panorama one sees groups of ragged sinewy men, the glorious girl at their head, the oxcarts and the sea of long horned cattle, accomplishing one of the greatest deeds of pioneer bravery and daring.

The picture is an adaptation by James Hamilton of the popular novel by the late Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon."

Burns Brothers' "Memphis Minstrels," a troupe of 25 colored people, is the exceptional attraction booked to play the State on Saturday, January 3, the day following the last presentation of "North of 36."

Jack Ford and family motored down from Eureka to spend Christmas with relatives here.

Mrs. L. A. Fuller, of Detroit, is here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Fuller.

The Franklin sedan of A. R. Steiert was in collision with another car on the state highway the first of the week and was put out of commission for a few days with a crumpled up fender and front wheel. The collision happened when the sedan turned in at the Steiert gate, the other driver meeting it almost head-on.
